THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1901.

Have the trusts made you rich?

The people must first secure public ownership of the government; the balance of the socialistic program will then follow.

Are there any provincial fire wardens in Ferguson? If not, there should be. If so, where are they and what are they doing?

There will soon be big money in the booze business in Manitoba. The recently enacted prohibition measure has been declared valid by the Imperial jury council at London.

Today it's necessary for the promoter and the financier to work hand in hand, for it's not merit that commands the old time faith of those who want to increase their dollars, but manipulation—Trail News.

Last Saturday's little blaze at Cummins & Co's store brings the fact forcibly to the minds of Fergusonites that we still have no fire protection. The EAGLE would suggest that a meeting be held tomorrow evening in the hall, after the Literary society adjourns, to talk this matter over. A small outlay and precaution now might save this town from being reduced to ashes some of these days.

In the face of James J. Hill's consolidation of all the railways of the north western states, and the evident attempt of J. P. Morgan to acquire a controlling interest in our own C.P.R. system, it is reasonable for the innocent electors of this province to hope for a "competitive" railway? Unless the good people of Canada soon awake Uncle Sam's huge private trusts will have all our monopolies bought up some morning before breakfast.

The Kootenay Mail has now developed into a matrimonial advertising medium; a sort of heart and hand get-up. Its handsome marriageable American ladies, cures for throbbing headaches, sexual weaknesses, dyspepsia, stomach cramps, asthma, and other quack and sim-flam advs., not to mention Edward A. Haggan, M. E., Hon. W. C. Wells, and a has-been politician, are particularly interesting. But as an out and out blarney Mail is unequalled.

It is not unusual to hear this or that merchant, firm, corporation, company or trust complaining of burdensome taxation. Oh what a pity about them. But, by the way, who pays the taxes? If you look closely you will find it is the consumer, and the masses—people who work the most and get the least—of course do most of the consuming. If you only buy a pair of socks or a shoe lace or pay rent for a shack you are paying taxes. The salesman or owner fixes a price to cover interest and all taxation. The consumer has become so accustomed to being held up throughout his lifetime that the queer idea pervades his mind that the "vested rights" element is paying the taxes. But they don't.

The average elector in the west is becoming wise to his own interests and for this reason can see no difference between the old Conservative party and the present Liberal party. Both stand for protection—to the trusts—and neither have made any attempt to carry out their vote-catching legislation. Anent the Liberal party the Sandon Pay-streak says: "Conciliation courts that are impotent, alien labor laws that cannot be made to exclude or deport, Chinese commissions vested with powers to lose the truth in a voluminous report, wholesale importation and naturalization of Japs and Chinks for Imperial reasons, a Sloan inquiry which reposes safely in some departmental pigeonhole, and a Crow's Nest investigation which unearthed the monumental truth that the boys killed on construction by a contractor's cruelty are still dead—these are a synopsis of the Laurier government's grand stand play for the labor vote."

"Theorizing will not bring about good government no more than it brings about good bank management or good railway management. The people of Canada will have good government when her officials and servants, high and low, are imbued with the same motives that govern those who manage and operate the great financial and industrial concerns of the country, and not until then. Men who believe in party first cannot be depended on to give the people good government, simply because their loyalty is to their party rather than to the people. When men elected to office or appointed to office are as true to the interests of the people as are those who are selected to manage successful corporations, then the people will have little to complain of in the direction of either unwise legislation or inefficiency in the management of the public's business."—Nelson Tribune. And not until an industrial government replaces our political government can we expect men to evince the same interest in our welfare as they now do for the trusts. The leading men of today are devoting their attention to industrial pursuits rather than politics. But when the whole people decide to go into business on exactly the same lines as the trusts things will be different. The shareholders—the people—will then have plenty of choice for managers, and politics will be eliminated altogether.

The time has arrived at last when even the mining world must recognize the spirit of the age. The great private trusts first entered the ranks of ordinary commercial pursuits, but today the great American Lead Trust has secured a cinch and, as might be expected, will look out for itself, as any other shrewd business concern would do. It did not believe in competition, so it secured full control of the smelters in the western states and Mexico, and is now devoting its attention to British Columbia. Once this is done the American Lead Trust will control the metal market of the world. It is true their immense holdings cost them over $20,000,000, but what does that amount to in this trusty-ifying age. They have watered this stock up to $100,000,000 (think of it, one hundred million dollars) and of course the miner must hereafter pay dividends on that capitalization and tribute to the shareholders of the trust. Production must be limited, higher smelting rates must prevail, and the metal market must be subjected to the usual manipulation for the benefit of the few. But the fool editor who suggests that the whole people should organize a trust, without the watered-stock feature, and give all concerned a fair deal, is looked upon with pity and scorn by men with "capitalistic minds" who will be poorer than church mice in a few years if present economic conditions are not changed. Oh yes, the trust is a nice thing, for those who are in on it. But are you a shareholder? Take lots of it; and say you like it, you who are looking for a metal market. The minds of some men are best reached through their stomachs.

At this season of the year quite a number of properties in the Lardeau which were working during the summer months have ceased operation for the winter, thus leaving news of actual development on various properties throughout the district rather scarce. It is at this period we are prone to look back over the past season's progress, compare it with former season's and note the changes which have taken place, and in the case of the Lardeau and Trout Lake district these changes have been decidedly for the better, a condition though which is by no means confined to this portion of the province. Quite a number of new properties have already made maiden shipments or are rapidly placing themselves in a position to do so with the completion of the railway this winter. Considerable new capital has been interested in this camp during the past season, though not as much as our natural mineral resources warranted, a few working bonds were entered into, and several sales have been made, the biggest one being that of the Ophir-Lade group at $100,000. There are more properties working this winter than ever before, and hence a more substantial pay roll. Mining companies' offices have been located here, banking facilities are being provided, and a good deal of local building has been done during the season just closed. Taking the my conditions, over which a few Lardeauites have no control, into consideration we have the best young mining camp in this province; for where is there another, outside of the Sloan, that can ship ore at a profit under existing circumstances? The outlook for this winter is not too bad, and if Mr. McCrossan gets his 30-ton Vulcan furnace under successful operation during the next two months we may indeed look for a lively winter, as much more ore will then be mined and reduced to matte than would otherwise be the case. Next season we will have railroad transportation, and then a gradual but steady transformation from a primitive to a modern mining camp is certain. This is the stage of any mining camp's career when a great many men make, or endeavor to make, money, and as money-making is the chief occupation of the present generation there should be no lack of interest shown here by out-of-town men desiring to coin a little capital. And the EAGLE must confess that their chances for making big money in this camp are good. The Lardeau has already turned out a few well-fixed men, but it will yet make millions for the right kind of enterprising investors.

United Hatters of North America

THIS IS THE UNION LABEL of the United Hatters of North America. When you are buying a FEEL either soft or stiff, see to it that the genuine UNION LABEL is in it. If a retailer has none labels in his possession and offers to put one in a hat for you, do not purchase him. Loose labels in retail stores are common. Do not listen to any explanation as to why the hat has no label. The genuine Union Label is performed on the four sides, exactly the same as a postage stamp. Counterfeits are sometimes performed on three of the sides, and sometimes only on two. Keep a sharp lookout for the counterfeits. Unscrupulous hat-makers are using them in order to get rid of their real-made hats. The John S. Stearns Co. and Henry H. Rosoloff & Co., both of Philadelphia, are the originators.

SCREAMLETS

Have the trusts made you rich ?

A charge of dynamite has sent many a poor man up for life.

In the past hundred years the progress was individual and material ; in the next hundred years it will be social and spiritual.

Trusts, generally speaking, are institutions which do not trust, but demand from the consumer of their products cash on the spot.—Wood Workers' International Journal.

When will people learn that the laws of Nature are uniform and invariable, and that knowledge of, and obedience to, those laws is in itself virtue, health happiness and safety.

Henry D. Lloyd, who has been visiting in Germany, says the socialist party of that country is greater than any other in the empire, and it is but a matter of time when it will take the reins of government in its own hands.

A wealthy man who died recently left a will in which he requested that his estate, which was composed of bonds, stocks and money, be burned. A heartless newspaper man, referring to the matter editorially, says of him that he perhaps knew it would be burned if he took it with him.

This is an age of printer's ink, and yet the general public knows little of what is going on in the world of capitalism. A few years ago a capitalist whose business included a province in its scope was considered a commercial giant. Now the perspective of the capitalist includes the whole round earth. And some of them are even suspected of having designs upon the nearby planets.

Many men who by virtue of their health and strength and energy do not care a fig for their less fortunate comrades. If they are not capitalist they aspire to become one, and of course cannot be expected to view the present-day unjust economic system from the standpoint of the average wage-earner. But the lines are becoming closer drawn, and a few years more of this trustfuling age will force them to quite another conclusion.

The charge is sometimes made that socialism is opposed to Christianity. If socialism is antagonistic to Christianity what have the churches been doing, or neglecting to do, that this belief has gained ground so enormously—as it undoubtedly has? Socialists say the churches do not, as a class, teach Christianity; that the great mass of the people hold in the main to the truths and teachings of Christ; and this same great mass of the people is drifting away from the churches. Socialism is now the political and even religious belief of more people than ever before in the history of the world.

In a system of industry where prices for the products of labor are fixed by competition it is the hard skin-fint employer who decides the rate of pay for the trade. If the close-fisted grinding employer cuts prices and thus brings down wages, the would-be generous employer is compelled to follow suit or see his business ruined. Employers whose business is not a practical monopoly are at the mercy of the most unscrupulous of their number, which raises the question of whether there is a Christian system in which selfish rule and the good are compelled to follow the bad.

Even the party press is saying an occasional word in favor of socialism. Here is a paragraph from a recent issue of the News-Advertiser of Vancouver, B. C.: "It begins to look as if the Liberal party may in some important districts of the upper mining country have to reckon seriously in the early future with a growth of organized socialism, which will either command the local destinies of the party or else rend it in twain. An active socialist-propaganda is being led at Nelson and in the Slokan riding—the latter more especially—and as large numbers of the miners are naturalized Americans of Populist views, they scarcely need conversion to socialism. Meanwhile, the socialism that is amongst us naturally feeds and grows upon the fact that in the quite recent past wholly inordinate concessions of public rights and property have been made almost unrestrictedly, sometimes by national, sometimes by provincial governments, to companies, combines and individuals who have too frequently failed to give anything like adequate value to the community in return."

Is the Coming Solid Town of the
Lardeau and Trout Lake District
Y B E C A U S E Y

BECAUSE of its unique geographical position; nature having provided as pretty a flat bench, at the junction of the north and south forks of Lardeau creek, as ever a town was built up on in British Columbia.

BECAUSE the snipping mines are located on Nettie L. hill, between the two creek forks; on the Great Northern hill just north of the town itself; and on the south fork and its tributaries, for all of which Ferguson is the supply point.

BECAUSE this is the point where mining men coming into the district make their headquarters; as they can walk or ride and return from most of the properties in one day or less.

BECAUSE the wonderful mineral developments during the past season have been a marvel to outsiders seeking investment. Not only have the old stand-by properties improved with depth, but the new finds and many test ore shipments are exceedingly gratifying, and attention must surely be attracted this way.

BECAUSE mine owners hire their crews in Ferguson and pay them off in Ferguson.

BECAUSE every pound of ore from these mines coming down the hill lands first in Ferguson. From here it will be teamed to transportation on the lake, a distance of four miles. BECAUSE when the railway reaches the place where the mines are it will reach Ferguson. BECAUSE there is every natural advantage for the building up of a great mining center.

BECAUSE the offices of many of the companies operating in the camp are located here.

BECAUSE Ferguson receives the pay roll benefit from these working mines.

But why give other reasons: We have the mines, the pay roll, the natural geographical location, the supply trade, the banking institutions, unlimited water power for all purposes; and the right kind of people to make a town. The ore shipments, increasing business, and money and enterprise will do the rest. Come here and see for yourself.

The C. P. R. ore shed at Trout Lake is now ready for the reception of ore.
Andy Cummings of the Balmoral hotel, returned from a business trip to Revelstoke on Monday evening.
C. P. R. officials do not deny that the Hill-Morgan combination have secured a controlling interest in the C. P. R.
Chas. W. McCrossan, the promoter of the 30-ton Vulcan furnace for Ferguson, writes: "I expect to be in Revelstoke in about two weeks."
A labor municipal party has been organized in Rossland, and candidates will be nominated for every office, with a fair show of their being elected.
The production of silver-lead ore will be greatly increased in B.C. next year, and by the time a lead refinery can be erected it will find plenty of work.
John Houston of Nelson will not vote for any government that does not bring down and pass a fair redistribution bill before doing anything else in the way of legislation.—Tribune.
John McTaggart, the Ferguson mining man, whose kneecap was broken in seven places last August, is progressing slowly but favorably. He can bend the knee a little, but the cords are still stiff.—Revelstoke Herald.
Revelstoke merchants intend to make a lively bid for the outfitting trade of the new Horsely placer diggings, where a rush is expected next spring. The Big Bend steamboat will certainly be a strong factor in Revelstoke's favor.
Some interesting developments may be looked for in the American group any day now. The foreman, Hugh Brown, says they expect to tap the ore chute very soon. The bondholders, the Mountain Lion Mining Co., intend to continue work without cessation.
Ed. M. Morgan has brought his family, one daughter and three boys, to Trout Lake and with the assistance of his sister has taken up house. Morgan is interested in the Crown mill and other properties in this camp, and formerly resided in Ellensburg, Washington.
A serious fire was nipped just in time last Saturday evening in Cummins & Co.'s general store, the roof having caught fire from an overhead stove pipe. The application of water from a hose attached to the private water-works system did good service and little damage.
George Carney of Kaslo, was blown to pieces by the explosion of the powder magazine on the Fry creek wagon road last week. He was working with the construction gang on the road and had gone to the magazine for some powder when the explosion occurred. No one knows what caused the accident.
Percy W. Johnson, alias Klondike, the celebrated packer and transportation agent, is back in the Slokan again. He has been furthering the development of the Lardeau during the last few months by urging the intractable mule across the beautiful mountain scenery which surrounds Ferguson.—Paystreak.
The EAGLE says: "The Imperial bank safe for the Ferguson branch is still at the Landing. The delay is becoming tiresome." Pam must be packing round quite a way.—Revelstoke Herald. Not on your ore dump! But how can a publisher pay drafts if there is no institution to cash his "I promise to pay" cheques.
Lardealites to whom snow may be foreign, will be interested to know that the article in question is a "precipitation taking the form of minute crystals of ice formed from aqueous vapor in the atmosphere; irregularly falling in irregular masses of flakes; also the white mass of fallen crystals." Snow falls in large quantities in some parts of British Columbia.
Action has been brought by August Johnson, of Phoenix and Rossland hotel man, to recover $10,000 damages from the Phoenix miners' union. Johnson owns the Central hotel in both camps. In September he received a number of non-union men as boarders in the Rossland hotel, and he now claims that the Phoenix union threatened to buy out his place there. He states that within two days his 35 boarders left him.

MAP OF THIS DISTRICT

Including the Fish Creek camp and Upper Trench Mine section, compiled by A. J. Cummins, P. L. S., and B. Shannon, B. A. It is now on sale at this office. The ready sale of the map is proving all we have said for it. The Trout Lake division is shown in black, the Lardeau in red, and the Almo in blue. Even a tenderfoot could take a copy of this map and find any claim recorded in the Lardeau division. The mountains, lakes, creeks, wagon roads, trails, surveyed railway routes, and the location and name by a unique index of every mineral claim in the district is shown.

Next to Visiting the 'Country in Person This Map Takes First Place.

In fact every geographical feature is so well defined, that one can see at a glance the nature of the country and the trend of the claim operations gives an intelligent idea of the miners' belts running through the camp. His certificate.

EVERYTHING FOR THE MINER

Our store room capacity has been almost doubled. Our stock was never so large and well assorted. Recognizing the increased number of men employed in the mines we have especially prepared to supply their every need. Experience has taught us the kind of goods to buy—the best—and our stock of men's clothing, from head to foot, was never so large and assorted as now. Any order, from two bits to a carload, is filled promptly and with a desire to please our constantly increasing number of customers. It pays to deal with LARDEAU'S LEADING STORE

As the prosperity of Ferguson and vicinity increases so does our stock of supplies for the miner. We can outfit you from head to foot, and as far as possible with Union-Made Goods. You will always find our prices consistent with the quality of goods we handle. The next time you are needing anything in the line of wearing apparel try us. Try our U. and I. union-made chewing tobacco.
